It is to be hoped that Janesville merchants will close their stores at least during a part of next Monday, thus giving their help a chance to celebrate. Quite a number have already decided to do so and others should also do something of the kind for legal holidays do not come often enough to cause any great loss even should all of them be observed.

Progressive encore ruled the hour at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hodson, of the third ward last evening. At one series of tables about thirty young friends of Miss Jennie Hodson were confiding for the gill stars; while in another room, the older people also enjoyed that game. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening and the affair proved to be a very enjoyable one.

There are now about eighty men employed by the city, according to bills presented to the council, mostly engaged in repairing, grading, and re-grading streets in the various wards. The city clerk has no easy task in drawing orders for the pay of this little army of employees, as in many cases five and six orders are drawn for the pay of one man—keeping each fund separate necessitating such a course. The war funds will soon be exhausted, and then most of the laborers will be ready to tackle something else.

For some days a man, appearing to be deaf and dumb, has been calling at different houses in this city, having various excuses. Just as we go to press, we hear that he called at a house in the first ward, acting in such an ungentlemanly and unseemly manner that the lady ordered him away. He refused to comply; whereupon she stepped back, procuring a revolver, and returning she fired at the intruder, only missing. The man made a hasty retreat and the lady hastened down town and informed Marshal Hogan, who is now skimming around the first ward to find his man.

It is thought that the burglars who shot Prof. Merriman, of Beloit, were young men and amateurs. Handkerchiefs partly covered their faces, and while in the room carried on conversation in subdued, unnatural tones. They had gained an entrance by means of a partially opened window. It is probable that the professor's presence of mind was all that prevented the wound from causing death within a few minutes. As soon as he realized that he had been shot he hastily bandaged his neck with handkerchiefs so as to stop the flow of blood, and aroused his brother, who slept in another quarter of the house. While the latter went for a physician and notified the police the professor did everything he could to prevent hemorrhage.

The Recorder, of this morning, publishes a communication signed "Tax Payer," complaining and stating that our water commissioners have "estimated a plan for the works without an adequate of the cost, and before specifications have been prepared." The water commissioners did no such thing. The Recorder should have informed the "circulation" that the water commissioners merely adopted a "system"—direct, precise, and instructed their engineer to submit plans and specifications for further action. The cost is limited by law to $115,000. This commissioners adopted just what the law required them to adopt—a system—and they will now report to the council plans and specifications, accompanied by diagrams and charts. Could the critical "Tax Payer" do more?

Bantist, Miss Addie Pense, the Misses Warren, Mrs. Wilson Lane, Miss Hattie Dearborn, Mrs. C. E. Chubb, Miss Clara Chubb, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, Mrs. Sutton Norris, Mrs. Wm. Bladen, Mrs. J. W. ## 47TH ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. and Mrs. Hiram Foote Celebrate Their Wedding Day—Married in New York in 1839—Happy Reunion!

The following, taken from the Rockford Gazette of Tuesday, will interest many of the old residents of Janesville, where the Rev. Mr. Foote and family resided for many years. They join with others in wishing them many more years of health and happiness.

Rev. and Mrs. Hiram Foote (yesterday) celebrated the forty-seventh anniversary of their marriage, and with them a host of friends rejoice in this happy and honorable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Foote were married at her childhood home in New Graffenburg, Berks county, N. Y., and with her husband came to the state of Illinois, locating near Joliet, where Mr. Foote preached for several years. After long and honored pastorates, as Congregational minister in Joliet, Racine, Janesville, and Waukegan, altogether a service of thirty-six years, Mr. Foote, with his family removed to Rockford eleven years since. His health prevented him from accepting a regular pastorate, but since residing here he has been able to assist the feeble churches of Poplar Grove, Winnebago and New Milford, in their efforts to sustain regular religious worship.

Mrs. Foote has ever been an able assistant in all her husband's work, and so today they stand together among the foremost ranks in religious and moral reform.

The children living are Mr. A. E. Foote of Milwaukee, Mr. H. W. Foote, of Minneapolis, Dr. L. F. Foote, of Cherry Valley, Dr. C. E. Foote, of Cumberland, Wis., and Mrs. H. H. West and Miss Kittie Foote, of this city. With the exception of the two oldest sons, the children were born, and with a large circle of relatives celebrated the happy day with Mr. Foote and wife.

At six o'clock supper was announced, and while all were enjoying the bountiful spread, letters were read from the absent sons, recalling many happy reminiscences of former days, and warm congratulations to the bride and groom of forty-seven years ago. All wish for them a golden wedding, and many more happy years together.

(From the Rockford Register.)

Yesterday afternoon and evening, Rev. and Mrs. Hiram Foote celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary with a family reunion and general good time. The celebration occurred at the residence, 208 South Third street. About twenty persons were present, including two grandchildren and four of the six children. The latter were Dr. L. F. Foote, Cherry Valley, Dr. C. E. Foote, Cumberland, Wis., and Mrs. H. H. West and Miss Kittie Foote, of this city. A. E. Foote, of Milwaukee, and H. W. Foote, of Minneapolis, sent down letters, of regret that they were unable to attend, and created great merriment by their facetiousness. With social enjoyment, the recital of recalled reminiscences, a pleasant afternoon and evening all spent with the venerable heads of the family. A big banquet was served. Mr. and Mrs. Foote have lived 11 years in Rockford and nearly 40 in the west. They were married 47 years ago in New York State.
